Introducing retailMetrix

The ultimate data analytics platform for retailers!

Data Warehousing and Processing at Any Scale

No matter the size of your business, RetailMetrix can handle it all. We provide data warehousing at any scale to bring all of your sales, labor, projection, marketing, and customer data to one place. Store, process, and query massive amounts of data without breaking a sweat.

Easy to Use Dashboards and Reports

Our powerful, yet easy to use dashboard and reporting platform allows you to analyze your sales, customer, and labor data, identify product and category trends, track marketing promotions, and much more. The platform is available as an iOS, Android, and web app, so your data is always at your fingertips.

Powerful Machine Learning
(Coming Soon)

Accurately forecast sales down to the item level to improve ordering. Improve merchandising with predictive product analytics, predict customer lifetime value, or segment users to create tailored promotions.

Fully Managed and Easy to Setup

RetailMetrix is fully managed, so you and your team can focus on running your business instead of managing data warehouses and analytics tools. We fully set up the platform and create a custom data import process for every customer, so onboarding is a breeze.

For Your Entire Team

Fine-grained access control keeps your users focused on the data that matters most to them, while keeping your data safe and secure. This allows you to share RetailMetrix with your entire team while managing the exact data access for each employee.

Powerful Dashboards and Reports

Our platform gives you access to real-time sales, labor, projection, marketing, and customer metrics, allowing your team to easily stay informed and make data-driven decisions.

Available Anywhere

Our cloud-based platform is available as an android, iOS, or web app, so your data is always at your fingertips.

Email Alerts and Recaps

Ensure your team stays in the loop with emailed alerts and recap reports.

Extensive API and SQL Access

Easily access data for in-depth analysis via our API or direct query access. Write your own SQL queries to access your data or use our extensive SQL library.

Unlimited Users

Don't hesitate to let your employees use RetailMetrix - we don't charge by user.

First-Class Support

We strive to make sure you're happy with our platform. Tech support is USA-based.
